IT IS SO.

I've seen many a child
Who would rather play
Provoking his playmates
Than his mother's love.

When he found that his heart had been Wounded by his playmates
And his mother's love
Never forgot the cold or the heat.

A Chance Acquaintance.

HOW A WASHINGTON MAN HAPPENED

TO EXPRESS HIS VIEWS TO THE PRESIDENT.

Saturday's Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Washington, February 23.—One of our most popular and enterprising business men was in New York

last week, and got into the train to come home. The parlor car was crowded, but the porter said:

"Take your seat anywhere, sir, for a few minutes. Some of these passengers will get out soon, and then

I will give you a seat."

My friend entered the car, and without ceremony, seated himself

beside a stranger who was reading a

New York morning paper. My friend is a little sensitive about the story I am going to tell, and I will not give his name; but for the purpose of identification, I will call him

Peter. He is a very sociable man, a staunch Republican, and pretty well up on politics.

The stranger laid down his paper pretty soon and engaged in conversation with Peter, regarding the topics of the day. Business, speculation and other matters were discussed, and very naturally, the conversation ran into politics, of which neither the stranger nor Peter was very fond. Peter asked him how far he was going, and the stranger replied that he was on his way to Washington.

"Live there?" asked Peter.

"Only temporarily," was the stranger's reply, and he proceeded to explain that he was in office.

"What part of the country are you from?"

"Ohio,"

"Lots of Ohio men around Washington since Hayes came in," remarked Peter, with a smile.

"Yes," replied the stranger, "we

Ohio people think we can supply the brains and muscle for the whole country."

"Modest folks, those Ohio men,"

said Peter again. "Got the President, General of the army, Chief Justice, Secretary of the Treasury and about half the offices, and now they want to nominate another Ohio man for President. Do you think

Sherman stands any chance of being nominated?"

"I really don't like to express an opinion on that subject," replied the stranger, frankly. "Secretary Sherman is a friend of mine, and I would like very much to estimate his strength."

They say Hayes is giving him a big lift," suggested Peter.

"No reply."

"I understand that civil service reform is being pushed forward with political conventions. Do you think

Hayes will be able to get the Southern delegates to Chicago?" asked Peter.

"A great many things have been said by Secretary Sherman's opponents that are

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

HOPKINSVILLE, FEB. 24, 1880.

SOCIALITIES.

Judge R. T. Petree went to Frankfort last week.

There are very few young ladies visiting in the city at present.

Mr. C. H. Fugus returned Sunday from a visit to Earlington.

Capt. Sam. M. Gahes paid a flying visit to Paducah the first of the week.

Miss Fannie Pryor, of the county was in the city last week visiting friends.

Mrs. N. B. Edmunds spent a day or two last week with friends in the country.

Miss Mamie Jern left Saturday to pay an extended visit to friends at Paducah.

Mr. J. W. McClanahan left for Franklin last Saturday to spend some days with his family.

Mr. J. H. Clarkson, a well-known Evansville drummer, was in the city the last of the week.

Prof. Rust will leave the middle of the week to attend a Sunday school Convention at Keokuk.

Mr. Otto Lander, one of the South Kentucky forces, was quite sick all last week, but is up again.

Mr. James Bronaugh was in Clarksville several days last week, attending tobacco sales.

Messrs. T. D. McQuigg and G. H. Lacy returned from a pleasure trip to St. Louis the first of last week.

Mrs. Lapine and her daughter Mrs. Hart returned last week from a visit to New Orleans.

Mr. Will Hawks, of Nashville, a young man who has many friends in the city was here the first of the week.

Mr. Geo. H. Brennan, the popular agent for Charles Stewart's paper house, Cincinnati, was in the city last week.

Mr. G. Burke Taylor left for Louisville, his former home, Saturday, having given up his position with Gray & McClanahan.

Miss Kitty Quarles, a charming young lady of the Garrettsburg neighborhood, is visiting relatives in Clarksville, Tenn.

Capt. C. L. Wood, who has been conductor on the accommodation train, which has this for its terminus, has been transferred to a through train, and consequently had to move his family from this city. Many persons who knew and esteemed them will note their departure with sincere regret.

GROFTON.

Eq. George Johnson married John I. Groce to Miss Pyle a short time since.

Whenever an unexpected orphan girl steps over here our people cannot do too much for her.

We came from your town one day last week the best of old-fashioned men that ever left there.

If we only owned a dog that could tree rabbits like Gus Downing's, we would not exchange him for the Presidency of the United States.

W. R. Long, Esq., said the ceremony and Mr. William Fuller and Miss Ma Matheny were made one.

Just lots of "home-made" here now but it is ridiculously high.

Gentlemen of the jury, from the evidence in the case we conclude that she is strictly virtuous and above suspicion.

Miss Lilly Corlier, one of Petersburg's fascinating darlings, was here to-day.

Do not abuse us too much boys, we did not aim to make our last so long.

Now that the excitement is over and the silver second thought has come, we give it as our opinion that she was a darling, a daisy, a dumpting and a lamb.

Miss Ophelia Davis and Mr. Daniel McIntosh are soon to open school here so we hope be informed.

The camp fires are lighted, the lazy wreaths of the curling smoke tell us that the green valley still flutters in the breeze down toward the "Madrox hole."

Mr. Konn M. Solman came up to get shaved and see his friends last week.

We have an old hen that lays eggs not bigger than your thumb. We never saw or heard of the like before. We are losing money on her; we thought from her architecture that she would lay goose eggs, but she has made a woful failure and we intend to crucify her.

Talk about your famous tenth location following the Imperial engine of Rome, but our boys followed that green vein on and ready to die on the altar and die on the altar of her country.

If a Democrat has to be elected Clerk, there is not a man in the county who would sooner see the scribbling than Jolly, generous, warm-hearted Frazier Owen. We lived in one hundred yards of him for a year and we know a whiter man never lived, a better fighter never drew a bow.

We are truly sorry the rail road managers have removed Capt. Connelly, seelion boss here. He had been here five or six years and was a general favorite with the farmers through whose farms his section ran.

It is the universal opinion of the best citizens of this town and county that Mr. C. M. Day, agent and postmaster at this place, is one of the most faithful, punctual and accommodating business men in the country. We sincerely hope the time will come when the company will give him a better position. Certainly no man in their employ deserves it more than he.

A general Greenback mass meeting will be held at the Court House Saturday. All are invited.

HERE AND THERE.

The Lewis House has been re-covered.

The new goods at How's jewelry store are elegant.

The foundation of the new church has been laid and the building will soon be begun.

Mr. J. W. Parcell, a citizen of Lafayette, will leave for Kansas about the first of March to make it his home.

Mr. W. B. Masou lost his kitchen hyfire one day last week. It was situated near the dwelling, which was saved with difficulty.

Mr. Ben Thompson's new shipping house on Railroad street is finished, and is quite an improvement to that part of the city.

Capt. Charles McMurray has succeeded Capt. Wood as conductor of the accommodation train, and is boarding at the Phoenix.

Our Lexington correspondent, who is a nice young lady, kindly remembered us last week with a basket of flowers. Many thanks for the gift.

Mr. H. C. Ballard has greatly improved the appearance of his store by re-painting and otherwise improving the front and windows of his store.

The display of new and elegant goods in the show window at How's jewelry store is simply immense, it is the greatest attraction on Main street, and would do credit to any city.

We need a good show of some sort to break the monotony, even if it would draw a good house, as our people are dying for an entertainment of some kind.

From the Franklin Patriot we learn that Rev. V. M. Metcalfe will speak at the Court House in that town to-day, on the subject of Agricultural Chemistry.

Post Masters will confer a favor on us by notifying us if there are any SOUTH KENTUCKIANS that are not taken from their offices. We don't want any dead heads on our lists.

Everybody who has had occasion to travel on his train will learn with regret, that Capt. Eggleston has resigned his position on this road and accepted one on a New York road.

Our Garrettsburg correspondent writes a good new letter. We welcome him to our list of reporters and hope to receive many interesting communications from his facile pen.

The Governor has appointed Messrs. S. E. Trice, S. G. Buckner and Geo. Polk as commissioners, and Frank L. Waller as Steward of Western Ky. Lunatic Asylum.

Mr. Anderson took several very fine landscape or rather water-scapes photographs last week during the flood. They were placed on exhibition at his door and attracted considerable attention.

Mr. W. G. Benton, representing the Louisville Commercial was in the city last week in the interest of his paper, and paid us a call. He will return next Monday to be present at Republican County Convention.

Miss John W. Benthall has bought the corner lot on Main street, adjoining Messrs. Slaughter's, and is erecting a handsome dwelling upon it. The work is being pushed ahead with vigor and will be completed in a short while.

W. W. Hutchinson, of New Providence, Tenn., writes, asking us to correct the statement made by our Haverly correspondent that he attempted to suicide in that neighborhood recently. He says the shooting was accidental.

Mizpah is quite an acquisition to our list of correspondents, and we are glad to have Roaring Springs represented. Modesty, however compels us to leave out that part of the communication which refers to ourselves.

Mr. F. T. Gorman has opened his Merchant Tailoring establishment on Nashville street, in the third building, and invites the public to call and inspect his goods and leave orders. He is ready to supply the wants of the people in his line as cheap as anybody. Let our people give him their patronage and encourage home industries. What is the use in sending your orders to Evansville and Louisville when you can get it done as well and as cheap at home? Call on him and examine his stock and learn his prices.

Death of Mr. Geo. Turner.

Mr. Geo. Turner, a brother to Mr. S. H. Turner, of this city, died at his home near Beverly last Friday. His death was caused by a wound received while in the army, which broke out afresh. He suffered intensely for several weeks prior to his death. He was a member of the Methodist church and his funeral was preached by Rev. Mr. Bedford. He was buried in the cemetery in this city. He was in the 38th year of his age and leaves many relatives and friends in this county and in Tennessee to lament his departure.

ROARING SPRING.

Mr. Editor, Allow me to introduce to your many readers our little city, never having seen a letter in your paper from this place, and feeling an interest in its welfare, I sent myself to let one and all know that your paper is a welcome visitor to our midst and has quite a large circulation here. I have been asked frequently who and where you are, and I married I say an old man, to the young ladies I say young, and to the young men a preacher's son, leaving them to fill up the blank.

Our city has two churches, Methodist under the pastorage of Bro. Bedford, and the Campbellites under the supervision of Bro. Mobley of Todd county, the latter preaching on Sunday in each month to a large and attentive audience, showing his appreciation in our midst. The 2nd holds forth on Sunday in each month to a crowded house generally. We have two dry good stores and groceries combined, the one owned by our gallant little captain J. L. with his son Jimmie behind the counter, looking like a great big sunflower at noon on a summer day. The other is owned by Milt Brandon who can be found at all times at the front door looking like "Honest John" at your city, and it is an old story, no need to tell you are honest to enter, when you can at a glance see the gallant Dr. G. behind the counter, full of smiles and blazes, ready to supply your wants. We have a bar room owned by Mr. Nicky Dawson, but let me say right here that no proclamae can get a drop, so you must bring some of the best along. Mr. Dawson keeps the hotel and used to keep it in Parisian style, but having recently become papa and for the last time, he of course neglects all else save the baby. We have a number of saloons or stills where women duds are fitted to suit, owned by our little abnurn haired Miss Allie Stephens and for the life of me I want to tell how she duds time to work, for the press of masculine seen in there at times. I told that the duties of her shop from this place to a farm house toward Paducah, when of course she will be a housekeeper and must turn her attention to the cutting and fitting of all kind of clothes. We have a blacksmith shop owned by Messrs. Stephens & Hasking, Two Drs. Hille and Greenwald, two schools, one kept by Miss Jennie Purley of Cadiz and the other by H. C. Durrett formerly of your city.

Farming is an up hill business at present in this community, since the heavy rain or rather water-scapes, going on unless to drain a point, is not lumber so scarce down here we could get from place to place more easily in a canoe than by any other conveyance. Wheat will be much damaged by the water standing so long on it. Plant beds are few and far between as yet. Eggs are in demand down here, owing to so many old bachelors trying to keep house and not having a cook cannot cook anything else.

I have in the last 60 years seen as many conio valentines as in the last week, every one has them by the dozens, guess they must have grown in Flat Lick or been made by some one up your way and the high water brought them hither.

Tobacco selling loose at 6 per hundred around, stuff in demand down here, I guess as nearly every family has a wagon in their month or in her hand ready to lift 1/2 pound of the admirable stuff from a box to their ruddy lips. Oh! What a pity that the dear creature should be such a practice deprive themselves of many sweet kisses in store for them by those who neither drink whiskey nor eat onions.

Mr. Arthur Henry of your county was in our place yesterday, looking like he would if he could. Mr. McCreash and Miss of our town left for you're city to spend a few days with Mr. H. C. Roberds. Some say that Dr. G. will soon change his mood of living, can't say as he has as yet told me, but I four or five visits per week is any sign it must be so.

Miss Lizzie Golladay, who has for so long been confined to her room by her lungs improving and hope ere long she may lay aside her crutches.

Brower Southall known to many of us is quite low with consumption. Send one of your cuts down and he must be hard on his hands and smart to see our little deputy T. M. (Miss Eva) how don't you dare to play cut and come, if I will bow you.

What does Sam Graves mean by not coming home, I've been telling the people that he is the man for that office.

Do you know Jim Job of Bennetts-town, if not hunt him up and if you should need a bridge or some butter-nut, he can supply you. Pink Sherill says that he is distantly related to old Job species of in the Bible and it looks as an indication we ready agree with Pink.

I'm so glad that April will soon be here that we can have an April fool party, would love to have you among us then.

I will try by my next to find out the good folks that are out and in (not your Jim Hays), and tell you of it.

Our mail was delayed one day last week on account of high water.

Our physicians are now very busy, after a rest of several weeks. They report several cases of pneumonia, but none fatal yet.

Farmers are busy stripping, pruning and delivering tobacco.

Hills, Wilkinson and Burnett, are home for a few days, attending court.

Miss Fannie Quick, one of Trigg's most attractive young ladies, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Aiton.

No one sent to the penitentiary this court.

The plant-bird business has been dull for the past two weeks.

The plowing season is near at hand.

Dr. J. M. Robertson has just returned from a visit to Caldwell.

GUY GRIFITH.

GARRETTSBURG.

As Garrettsburg has not hitherto been represented in your valuable paper, I venture to send a few items from this little village.

The rain has ceased to fall, the clouds have vanished and we are once more permitted to enjoy the glorious sunshine which has been obscured for the last few days.

The roads are improving rapidly, and soon the boys will be able to take their girls, buggy riding. Will it not be nice?

The trees are almost ready to bud out, vegetation is beginning to put on its coat of green, and every twig is beginning to bud out.

Our city has two churches, Methodist under the pastorage of Bro. Bedford, and the Campbellites under the supervision of Bro. Mobley of Todd county, the latter preaching on Sunday in each month to a large and attentive audience, showing his appreciation in our midst. The 2nd holds forth on Sunday in each month to a crowded house generally. We have two dry good stores and groceries combined, the one owned by our gallant little captain J. seems to herald the approach of spring.

A fatal accident occurred in Garrettsburg on last Monday evening. Mr. Buck Bryant, an honest and industrious citizen of this neighborhood, wishing to engage in a wrestling match, pulled out his coat and laid it near or upon a loaded gun. When he took up the garment it in some way caused the discharge of the gun, and the entire load entering his side, produced almost instant death. His only wish after being shot, were "boys" have killed myself, pray for me to another world. He was about 25 years of age and leaves a considerable family to mourn his loss. The heartfelt sympathy of the community go out to the bereaved wife and children, who have been so suddenly robbed of both husband and father.

Mr. Cortez Leavelle's dwelling, situated about four miles northeast of Garrettsburg was burned on last Thursday night, February 12th. It supposed a violent gust of wind blew the cook-room door open and on the floor, thus causing the fire. Mr. Ben Boyd, who occupied the house at the time, succeeded in saving very little of his furniture or clothing.

Mr. Harris, the present pastor of Olivet church, opened a school for both sexes at the Garrettsburg Male Academy, a few weeks since.

The Texas fever has recently broken out among the small boys of this neighborhood. Several of them have attempted to run off to the Lone Star State but only one has succeeded as yet in accomplishing his object. All of them are now anxious to see the elephant, but after being in Texas a few months and experiencing the hardships of a frontier life, they may be heard to cry "I want to go home and see my mamma."

The health of the community is comparatively good, and the physicians are now enjoying a season of partial rest.

The time for the bashful boy to read his expression of his sentiments in the steps of a sentiment always passed, so he will now have to fold his hands and wait until the next 14th of Feb.

Will not some one marry and invite us to the wedding? We want to go over so much.

LAFAYETTE.

On last evening the whistles whistled without with all the rudeness of March, and about 7 o'clock increased intensely to a gale sufficient to unroof Mr. Jack Griffin's new house, and to damage Dr. A. W. Williams' fences to some extent.

On last Saturday Prof. Aaron Williams, of Clarksville, honored the Lafayette Grange in the morning with his presence and in the evening at 2 o'clock delivered a most entertaining lecture on education at the High School, which was well received and highly appreciated by the present.

Prof. Williams is an educated man, and combines tact, talent and adaptability in the happiest manner. While he did not utter the words of the motto of teaching, he set before us in his most complete sense, the importance of employing the best talent in our schools, and the necessity of dealing some very effective and amusing hits upon the slant system of education and its cheap teachers. Like Dr. Franklin the Prof. believes and advocates forcibly the theory that "an ignorant man is a danger to his country, the best interest." We trust we shall have the pleasure of again welcoming him to our town.

There is a dearth just now in railroad news and a corresponding depression in the elasticity of railroad rates. Our rates at this Lafayette still moves on in the "even" tone of our way, quietly making additions in some way every week. Mr. John Baylman having bought out in part Mr. Robt. Beasley, and they have opened a family grocery establishment, located in the old "even" tone of "snore" crennas" procured under difficulties, yet handled with care, and served in the most elegant manner. It has often been remarked by strangers that for the size of the place Lafayette was one of the most musical towns in the State, which fact is fully conceded by the advent of the new string band which serves off gratuitously from 11 p. m. until 4 in the morning. For sometime the citizens here have felt under the greatest obligations for the generous manner and the indefatigable exertions they have made to have their music to reach all ears, cultivated and otherwise.

In this age of party strife and political intrigue, we feel like closing our letter with the old American motto, "Stand by the Country" a country we love, and while the blood of our forefathers has consecrated to our arms, let us have the courage of one who know well of what he wrote, we feel that to stand by one country then is to stand steady on the banks of the St. Lawrence, or the Gulf of Mexico, nor on the ocean coast, but to push forward and stand by the principles and interests which the genius of the Republic suggests and the good of our country demands. We do not believe there lives an American "with soul so dead that never to himself hath said, this is my own native land" and as such will defend and stand by it, not to raise a thorn in our midst, but to perpetuate the Democracy which our ancestors bled and died.

OLIVE BRANCH.

MONTGOMERY.

It was almost a flood.

We hear of great damage throughout the county to bridges, fences, etc., caused by the torrent rains. Old citizens say it was the heaviest rain-fall since '67.

Montgomery has petitioned the Legislature to empower her trustees to build a jail for the benefit of persons coming to law.

We are glad to see our young friend, Dr. L. J. Allen again, after a serious spell of pneumonia.

Our mail was delayed one day last week on account of high water.

Our physicians are now very busy, after a rest of several weeks. They report several cases of pneumonia, but none fatal yet.

Farmers are busy stripping, pruning and delivering tobacco.

Hills, Wilkinson and Burnett, are home for a few days, attending court.

Miss Fannie Quick, one of Trigg's most attractive young ladies, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Aiton.

No one sent to the penitentiary this court.

The plant-bird business has been dull for the past two weeks.

The plowing season is near at hand.

Dr. J. M. Robertson has just returned from a visit to Caldwell.

Mr. Venable Carpenter, living near Vaughan's Store, in this County, stripped seven bales of tobacco last week that he had, when stripped, four and a half pounds.

There has been a considerable stir in the market this week, caused by the sale of some better tobacco, and showing some encouraging prices. There is not to be found anywhere in this country a better organized corps of Warehouse-men than we have, and we are glad to see that the owners of the largest warehouses appear to have more tobacco to sell than they can get to get from the small offerings thus far. Now that we have had a season and the roads are improving we may look out for business to move in this department. When ever you are inclined to go to the seller and have a principal of another market to take your tobacco to another than your own market, you not only get whipped yourself, but injure your own market to the extent of whatever number of bales you ship off. The buyer's price has been reduced from $2.00 to $1.80, and while our freighters are not low, still they are more in harmony with those of competing markets than ever before. Having no large Exchange to pay for out of the sale of every kind, but a neat comfortable one where the seller and buyer may freely mingle and affect their bargains, we confidently expect to not only hold our trade, but gather strength this season. The Kentucky is pledged to do everything in its power for the good of the trade.

Sold by Buckner & Woodridge, Feb. 18th 1880.

17 lbs. common to medium lugs, $3.35 to $3.40

12 lbs. good lugs $5.00 to $4.00

6 lbs. common and low leaf, $5.05 to $5.00

12 lbs. low medium to good leaf $7.75 to $6.00

Market, firm on all grades with good demand.

Sales by Lander & Donaldson for week ending Feb. 18th 27 lbs.

9 lbs. medium to good leaf $10.00 to $6.00

19 lbs. low to common leaf, $5.55 to $4.30

8 lbs. common to good lugs, $4.20 to $3.00

The market was active and demand good for all grades. We are pleased to note an increased feeling of interest in our heavy dark export tobacco. We think prices will be throughout the season more satisfactory to sellers than the last season. We give special attention to the sale of the tobacco.

Sale of 46 lbs. by J. K. Gault & Sons, Feb. 18th.
